CAMP INTERNET

YOU ARE INVITED Your classroom is invited to join hundreds of Camp Internet classrooms in California, Arizona, and New Mexico in exploring and celebrating Native American Heritage. Camp Internet is networking together rural and urban public schools and Indian schools in three states for a year- round learning program, and your classroom can join in this special November activity as our guest at no cost.

Come see what being part of a distance learning community is all about!

HOW TO PARTICIPATE Student projects in all media including visual, video, audio, and written on the theme of NATIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE can be submitted to explore@campinternet.net November 1–22, 2002 and will then be featured online in a Student Showcase beginning November 26 (including Thanksgiving so they can show their family their work at home). Digital images of student work, sized down to 250 x 250 pixels maximum, word documents with poetry and storytelling, gardening and science projects all are welcome!
Work must be teacher-approved and submitted by email or sent on disk to Camp Internet , 1129 State Street A7, Santa Barbara CA 93101. Please include teacher and student names, school name and address with each entry. All students will receive an award of recognition for their entries.

STUDENT SHOWCASE All student work will then be visible online at www.campinternet.net/nativeheritage2002 Nov. 26th – Dec. 31st 2002.
Connect YOUR students to fellow learners in three states from all walks of life to promote cross cultural awareness, understanding, and appreciation.
